FIFTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, May 12. SENATE.

The death of Gladstone was made the theme of the chaplain's invocation at the opening of the Senate to-day. He said : "O, Eternal God, with the whole English speaking race we stand es mourners beside the bier of the mest eminent man of our generation." At the conclusion of the morning business consideration of the war revenue bill was resumed. Mr. McLaurin delivered a set speech upon the features of the pending bill.

In the course of his speech Mr. Mc-Laurin said he was ready to vote for any messure that would tend to bring the power of description. Every day Messrs. O'Neal & Lunt to-day sold now means the loss of hundreds, persaid that there was an influence at work in this country more powerful than the President, more posent than Congress. It was the silent, secret influence of the money power which was endeavoring to force an issue of bonds. "There is an army in this country," said he, "just as anxious to raid the United States treasury as our volunteers are to raid the inland of Tybe. To the army I to the island of Cuba. To the army I re fer to no volunteers are needed. These jobbers and speculators form a greater menace to us than the war with Spain.' He urged the adoption of the proposition to issue legal tender notes. "It is the dealers in futures," declared Mr. McLaurin, "the financial speculators and cormorants, the transportation companies, the manufacturers of ammunition, who make money out of the war. Upon these the financial burdens of the war out to fall and not upon the speech the clerk proceeded with the reading of the bill. When the paragraph providing for stamp taxes upon all transfers of stock was reached it was amended so as to cover all agreements to sell stock whether the stock actually was transferred or not. Mr. Gorman thought that checks for small amounts ought not to be requirel to bear s'amps. Mr. Aldrich in reply said that the elimination of checks for small amounts would reduce the revenue from this source about $3,000,000. The tax, he said, did not bear upon small deposi-tors heavily, and upon savings bank de-positors who drew money on their books it bore not at all. Mr. Bacon movel so to modify the provision for a tax on inland bills of exchange so as to relieve bills of less than wive in value from the require-ment and to fix the rate at two cents where the value is between $100 and

Mr. Wolcott gaid the change might be of value in campaigning in the back counties of George.

Mr. Bacon replied that the objection was not to the amount of the tax but to the inconvenience it would occasion persons removed from the centers civilization. Mr. Teller said that the indication were that the war with Spain would not long continue, but to him the sign were equally strong that within a fe years we would be involved in another war which might and probably woul be of far more serious consequence that the contest with "the 7 by 9 country with which we are now contending.' The Bacon amendment was lost by vote of 13 to 41. HOUSE.

by the Senate, and moved to concur in the Senate's amendments.

Mr. McEwan filed his protest against the measure, declaring he considered it vicious and dangerous. In reply to a question from Mr. Liv-ingston intimating that he wanted the bill to make arbitration compulsory, instead of discretionary, as provided, Mr. Mr. Grosvenor said shortly: "If the gentlemen will declare his willingness to vote to make arbitration of labor disputes compulsory and will put himself in the line of fire from the labor organ-izations, I want to say he will need a search warrant to hold a funeral over his political ambition."

Mr. Walker, from the committee on labor, supported the bill, emphasizing the declaration that all labor organizations desired its passage.

After debate, confined to the proposition to send the bill to conference, in which many members participated, a roll call upon agreeing to the Senate's amendments, thereby effecting the bill's passage, was ordered, resulting in yeas 219, nays 4.

THE CAMP AT RICHMOND. A dispatch from Richmond says: Col. J. C. Baker, who went to Washington to urge the Virginia delegation in Congress to make a renewed effort to secure the appointment of Adjutant General Nalle as a brigadier general, returned yesterterday. He conferred with the Senators and Representatives but did not see the President. The Congressmen were unable to give Col. Baker much encouragement, as the President's policy is to take all the brigadiers from the regular army.

There is much criticism of the government's determination to rush the raw troops, just organized in Richmond, to Tampa, and equip them after they get there. The officers claim that they can be put into shape in Richmond in one-half the time they could in a hotter climate and in a large camp. The boys are complaining less of the food they have to eat. Rations are being served to companies. This plan works more satisfac-

to companies. This plan works more satisfar-torily than the old one. Each day witnesses a more strict discipline at the camp. The boys are having some hard work to do at drilling and other labors. Company K, Fredericksburg, of the Third Regiment, made a splendid record. They took to Bichmond ninety men and every one of them passed the examination. Three of those not needed wons in the Alexandria Light Infantry and the others will return home.

Governor Tyler is in daily receipt of many letters from mothers and sisters of men who have enlisted asking him to have them discharged, as their health is bad or they have have families dependent upon them for support. The Governor is powerless in such mat-ters. In his proclamation he ad ised that all such men remain at home, but he cannot di " charge a U. The Richmond Dispatch says: "While it is certain that two Virginia regiments will be ordered to Tampa, and may form a part of General Lee's division, it is not thought the Third will be sent there at all, certainly not now, and it is pretty well assured that the Virginia troops will be brigaded with a regiment from another State and that a regular army brigadier will be in command. ANOTHER BARGAIN IN

FINE WASH

Owing to the cool backward spring we have determined to cut the price of our Fine Wash Fabrics to the lowest price we make on the goods even in July.

Our Fine French Organdies and thin novelties that have been 25, 30, and 37½c., go in this sale for 19c.

25c Fine French Organdies, the usual price of which is 37½c. Sale price 19c.

30c French Organdies, the regular 40c quality, 19c.

37½c French Novelties that cost to put on our counters 29c. 19c.
